Domestic Abuse Advice: Safety Tips

Stalking

- Consider cutting off all communication with the stalker
- Always keep your mobile phone with you and charged
- Make sure that someone knows where you are, and send a text or leave a voice mail/voice note when leaving and arriving at your destination
- Keep a diary of events. Write down the date, time, location, and details of what happens. It's also a good idea to include information about any other witnesses who can confirm what happened. Download the Bright Sky APP/ Hollie Guard APP
- Keep copies of letters, text messages and emails, and taking screenshots of other online messages (e.g., on Facebook).
- Try to get 'evidence' of any events that happen at your home
- Give a picture of the stalker to friends at work and school
- Consider changing routes to and from work/school, to make it difficult for your stalker to know your daily routines
- Adjust working hours (if possible)
- Have a colleague walk you to your car
- Inform neighbours about the situation. Provide a photo/description of the stalker as well as a photo of the stalker's vehicle.
- Identify escape routes out of your house. Teach them to your children.
- Change locks and upgrade home security system, if possible
- Update passwords to accounts frequently
- Change answers to your security questions so that the stalker is not able to reset your password or gain access to the account
- Adjust default settings on phone, apps and websites so that your location is not automatically shared
- Do an internet search on your name to make sure none of your personal information is posted by others. If you find information posted about you, notify the site's webmaster immediately and request that the information be removed.
- Don't give out your online identification information. If the stalker has had access to your phone or computer, they may be monitoring what you do via Spyware, key logging software or other means. In this case, a stalker can see any changes that you make. You may want to:
 1. Use another, safer device (for example, a friend's phone, the computer at a library)
 2. Acquire a new device (if feasible)
 3. Seek a protection order
