

Farnham Poor Law Union: minutes of the Adoption Committee (under Poor Law Acts of 1889 and 1899), 1904 to 1910 (alphabetically by surname)

From the late 19th century and before the legal adoption system was established, a child who received welfare under the Poor Law could in practice be 'adopted' by the Board of Guardians. The Board took responsibility for placing these children in foster homes, apprenticing them out or supporting them in Industrial Schools. The Poor Law Union Boards of Guardians formed specialist committees known as Adoption Committees to deal with issues arising from this scheme.
