IMPORTANT:
Please read this document carefully before you complete your form as it contains key information and advice you will need in preparing your appeal. It also provides answers to important questions you may have on the appeal process.

Introduction: This guidance is to help families who have not been offered a place at the school they wanted for their child. Although every effort is made to offer your child a place at your preferred school, this is not always possible.

Why didn’t my child get a place at the school I wanted?
All parents have a right to express a preference for the school they would like their child to attend. The admission authority must offer a place at that school unless there is a legal reason for refusing a place.

The most common reason for not offering a place is that the school(s) received more applications than places available and other children had a higher priority for a place at the school than your child when the school’s admission policy was applied. For in-year applications it is usually that the school is at its published admission number.

In both instances the school will not wish to admit more pupils as this will adversely affect resources and the education of other children at the school.

Accepting an alternative school place
If you have not been offered a place at the school you would like, it is sensible to consider an alternative school place for your child. If you have not already done so and it is something the school offers you should visit the school you have been offered. If you accept a place at an alternative school, you can still appeal for a place at any school that was named on the application form you submitted. Accepting an alternative place will not affect any appeal that you lodge.
Lodging an Appeal

All parents have the right to appeal against any decision made by or on behalf of an admission authority as to the school your child attends under legislation produced by the Department for Education (DfE). You have the right of appeal if you have parental responsibility, whether or not you are the natural parent or if you care for a child who lives with you. It does not have to be the same person who submitted the application form.

If you do wish to appeal, you will need to complete an appeal form stating why you want your child to attend that school. You can appeal for a place at more than one school, but you cannot appeal for a school you did not name on your application form.

Your appeal must be made in writing and you must explain the reasons why you are lodging an appeal. If you submit an appeal form without setting out your grounds of appeal, it will be returned to you as you will not have lodged your appeal correctly. Therefore, it is very important for you to state clearly your reasons for lodging your appeal.

Normally you will need to submit your appeal by a certain date. Appeal timetables for community and voluntary controlled schools will be published on the Surrey County Council Website. The timetables for all other schools should be published on the school website. For September entry appeals, no appeals can be heard until after the specified closing date. We will aim to hear September entry appeals within 40 school days of the closing date.

If you wish to make an appeal for immediate entry you will need to lodge your appeal as soon as possible. We will aim to hear your appeal within 30 school days from the date your appeal is lodged.

Please note that appeals are not heard during any of the school holidays. For example if you lodge an appeal close to the end of the summer term in July, it may not be possible to hear the appeal until after the start of the new school year in September.

It is very important to submit your appeal by the specified date as failure to do so could delay your appeal hearing.

Children with an Education, Health and Care Plan (EHCP)

If your child has an EHCP Surrey Schools Appeals Service cannot hear your appeal as this is not allowed under current legislation. If you disagree with the school placement given to your child, you have the right of appeal to the Special Educational Needs and Disability (SEND) Tribunal. Details of this process should have been provided to you with the school place offer and you should contact your case worker for further information and advice on this process.

If your child is currently being assessed for special educational needs or an EHCP you can lodge an appeal up until the point the EHCP is issued for your child. The outcome of an appeal will not always be taken into account when your child is being assessed for an EHCP.

What information should I provide as part of my appeal?

Firstly, it is really important that you complete all sections of the appeal form and make sure that the details you supply are correct.
It is for you to decide what information and documents you wish to include in your case. However, if your appeal is based on medical grounds, you should, where possible, provide written evidence from a medical practitioner to support this. If your case is based on a house move you should provide official confirmation of your new address.

The Appeal Panel will not contact people on your behalf, for example; if you want the Appeal Panel to see a medical report or consider the views of a Social Worker or a previous teacher you will need to get that information yourself and submit it as part of your appeal.

Please do not submit original documents that you wish to keep as all the information and documents you submit as part of your appeal will be retained.

If you submit information or photographs that include other children please make sure that you have parental approval and that you are not in breach of any data protection rights.

Information that you submit will need to be photocopied so it can be submitted to the Appeal Panel. It is your responsibility to ensure that any documentation you are submitting is clear and can be easily copied. All appeal papers are copied in black and white. If you wish to submit information in colour you will need to supply seven copies.

Submission of evidence

When you first submit your appeal form, it must contain the written grounds of your appeal. However, you might find that you wish to submit additional evidence and information at a later date.

Supporting information or additional evidence must be received by the evidence deadline which will be by 5pm, three clear working days before your appeal hearing. The evidence deadline will be clearly highlighted in your appeal notification letter and again when you are sent your appeal pack. The evidence deadline cannot be changed.

Any information received after the stated evidence deadline might not be considered as part of your case or the Appeal Panel may adjourn your appeal hearing. It will be the Appeal Panel’s decision whether or not it should accept any late information.

If you are considering submitting digital evidence please take into account that a copy of this must be supplied in an accessible format that can be kept as part of the official record. At your appeal hearing you will be responsible for supplying a laptop etc for showing any digital information to all parties at the appeal hearing.

If you decide to submit information using email, please ensure that your attachments are in either PDF form or Microsoft Office compatible.

It is not permissible to include any letters of support from representatives of the school you are appealing for. Such support can create conflicts of interest and unfairness to other appellants.

Can I know why previous appeals were upheld for my preferred school?

Previous decisions on school admission appeals do not set precedents so no-one can predict whether your appeal will be successful or not. In addition, school admission appeals are confidential so you cannot ask to see copies of previous appeals or know why other appeals were successful. Your appeal will be considered on your own individual circumstances.

Who will hear my appeal?
An Appeal Panel is made up of three independent volunteers. There will be at least one person with experience in education. This person will be acquainted with education conditions in the local authority area, or who are parents of registered pupils at school. There will also be at least one lay member. This person will not have had any personal experience in the management of any school (excluding experience as a school governor or in another voluntary capacity).

None of the Appeal Panel will be connected with the school you are appealing for or the school you have been allocated. Appeal Panel Members must not know you.

The Appeal Panel will be assisted by a clerk who is present to ensure your appeal is conducted fairly. The clerk does not have any say at all in the Appeal Panel’s decision but is there to:

- Explain what will happen at the hearing and deal with any questions you may have;
- Ensure that all the relevant facts are established;
- Make sure each party is heard in turn and they are given the opportunity to present their case fairly and equally;
- Be an independent source of advice on law and procedures; and
- Record the proceedings, decisions and reasons

The decision of the Appeal Panel is made independently of the admission authority.

What Powers does the Appeal Panel have?
The Appeal Panel can either refuse or allow your appeal. It has no other power. An Appeal Panel cannot:

- Attach any conditions if it allows your appeal; or
- Order the admission authority to change your position on the waiting list for the school.

In addition the Appeal Panel will not hear complaints or objections on wider aspects of local admission policies and practice.

What happens after I have completed my Appeal Form?
Once you have submitted an appeal form, an appeal hearing will be arranged by the Surrey Schools Appeals Service. It may be some time before your appeal can be heard. You will be notified of the date, time and location of your appeal hearing at least 10 school days in advance. If you have submitted appeals for more than one school it is unlikely that your appeals will all be heard on the same date and you will receive a separate notification for each appeal you have submitted.
Sometimes you may be offered an appeal hearing date with less notice. If this is the case we will discuss this with you to confirm if you are happy for your appeal to go ahead, or if you would like a later date.

At least seven working days before your appeal hearing you will be sent an appeal pack which will include all the documents that have been submitted to the Appeal Panel. The pack will include:

- The case for the admission authority outlining how places at the school were allocated and how the admission arrangements for the school apply to your child’s application;

- The reason why your child was refused a place at the school;

- A statement explaining how the admission of another child would cause prejudice to the provision of efficient education or the efficient use of resources;

- Copies of any other documents being used by the admission authority as part of its case; and

- The appeal form you completed and any documents you have submitted to support your appeal.

You will need to bring this pack with you to the appeal hearing.

What happens if my ex-partner wants a copy of the paperwork/detailed decision letter?

All correspondence is sent to the named appellant who has completed the notice of appeal form for their child. However, where an estranged partner, with parental responsibility/rights, requires a copy of any of the appeal paperwork, including the detailed decision letter, we would first inform you, as the appellant. Please note that we cannot refuse to send information regarding your child to an ex-partner who is a parent of that child and has parental rights. We can, however, exclude any information regarding yourself if you wish.

Can I attend the appeal hearing?

You will be asked to attend the appeal hearing and present your case in person. It is best for you to attend the hearing if you can as you will be able to answer any questions the Appeal Panel has and you will be able to ask questions yourself of the admission authority’s representative. You will also have the opportunity to address the Appeal Panel regarding your case. If it is not possible for you to attend, or you have chosen not to attend the appeal hearing in person, the Appeal Panel will make a decision based on the written information that you have sent in. Your case will be considered in the same way as other appeals.

If you are unable to attend your appeal hearing on the date and time you have been given and it is not reasonably practicable to offer you another hearing date, your appeal will be dealt with on paper. If you fail to attend your appeal hearing on the date and time you have been given and have not notified the Surrey Schools Appeals Service beforehand, your appeal will go ahead and a decision made based on the written information you have sent in.
If your appeal is heard in your absence the admission authority’s representative will still be given the opportunity to present the school’s case at the appeal hearing and answer any questions that the Appeal Panel may have with regards to the admission authority’s case only.

Who can I bring to the appeal hearing?
You can bring a relative or friend with you to the appeal hearing to help you present your case and offer you support.

It is not usual to need legal representation, although you can seek legal advice if you wish and a small number of parents choose to be represented at the appeal hearing by a lawyer or advocate. If you are unable to attend the appeal hearing, you may nominate a representative to attend in your place. If you intend to be represented or accompanied you must let the Surrey Schools Appeals Service know before the appeal hearing.

Appeal Panels must not allow representatives of schools to support individual appeals for places at their school at the hearing itself or in writing.

Most parents do not bring their child to the appeal hearing as in most cases it is not necessary. If you do bring your child and wish them to speak to the Appeal Panel, you need to be aware that the Appeal Panel and other parties may ask them questions as part of the appeal hearing.

Can I withdraw my appeal?
If you have changed your mind and no longer wish to go ahead with your appeal, you will need to contact the Surrey Schools Appeals Service.

What will happen at the appeal hearing?
The clerk will usually speak to you before the hearing and will invite you and the admission authority’s representative to go into the hearing at the same time. At the start of the hearing the Chairman will welcome you and the admission authority’s representative and introduce everyone present. He or she will explain how the hearing will proceed and ensure that all parties are given a proper opportunity to present their case.

The order of the appeal hearing will depend on whether your appeal is the only appeal for the school or if your appeal is one of many for the same school. If multiple appeals have been received for the same school they are usually considered by the same Appeal Panel. An Appeal Panel hearing multiple appeals will not make decisions on any of those appeals until all the appeals have been heard. When you are notified of your appeal hearing date you will be sent a procedure for the day which will explain in detail the order of the appeal hearing.

For the first part of the hearing all parents are invited to attend. The admission authority’s representative will present its case, explaining why the school is unable to take more children into that year group and the issues that would arise if the school had to admit more pupils. All parents and the Appeal Panel will be invited to ask questions.

You will then be given the opportunity to explain to the Appeal Panel all the reasons why you want your child to go to the school in question, why you feel they should be offered a place and what the school can offer your child that the allocated school cannot. The Appeal Panel and the admission authority’s representative may ask you questions. If your appeal is one of many for the same school this part of your appeal will be heard individually without the presence of other appellants.

At the end of the appeal hearing both you and the admission authority’s representative will be given the opportunity to sum up your case before the appeal finishes.

What happens after my appeal hearing?
The Appeal Panel will make a decision on your appeal; it must either uphold or dismiss your appeal. If an Appeal Panel decides that your child should be admitted to the school that decision is binding on the admission authority concerned.

Once the Appeal Panel has made its decision you will be notified of the decision in writing as soon as possible. If your appeal was one of a group of appeals for the same school, you will not be notified of the decision until all of the appeals have been heard. This may mean that you will have to wait a few days before you know the outcome of your appeal. The admission authority will also be informed of the decision.

Your first letter will inform you of the outcome of your appeal, this will be followed by a detailed letter, which will include the reasons for the Appeal Panel’s decision. The full decision letter is normally sent to you within 5 school days, however, due to the large number of appeals heard for different schools during April – July this is often not possible. A copy of the full decision letter will also be provided to the admission authority.

Can I appeal again if my appeal is unsuccessful?
If your appeal is unsuccessful you cannot normally appeal again for the same school, in the same academic year. If your child’s name remains on the waiting list and there have been successful appeals the school may wait until it has dropped back to its published admission number before it starts to offer places from the waiting list again.

There is no right of appeal against the Appeal Panel’s decision. If you are concerned that your appeal was not dealt with correctly and the procedures did not comply with the School Admission Appeals Code and believe this may have affected the outcome of your appeal, you can complain to either the Local Government Ombudsman or the Education Funding Agency depending on the status of the school.

Neither the Local Government Ombudsman nor the Education and Skills Funding Agency can overturn the decision of the Appeal Panel, but if they agree with you that your appeal was not conducted properly and this has led to injustice, they can recommend that you are offered a fresh appeal with a new Appeal Panel.

The Local Government Ombudsman can investigate complaints for maintained schools, excluding Academies and Free Schools. Complaints can be made by calling the LGO Advice Team on 0300 061 0614 or online at www.lgo.org.uk/make-a-complaint/factsheets/education.

Complaints for Academies and Free Schools must be made to the Education and Skills Funding Agency. Complaints can be made online at www.gov.uk/schools-admissions/appealing-a-schools-decision. Please also see the Education Funding Agency fact sheet at the end of this document which can be downloaded at https://assets.publishing.service.gov.uk/government/uploads/system/uploads/attachment_data/file/692952/Academy_independent_admission_appeal_panel_complaints_factsheet_2018.pdf
How the Appeal Panel Makes its decision - Infant Class Size Appeals

Appeals for a place in the majority of infant classes can only be upheld in very limited circumstances. The law requires that infant classes (Reception, Year 1 and Year 2) should not contain more than 30 pupils with a single teacher.

The grounds for allowing an infant class size appeal are extremely limited and the success rate is very, very low. You may want to consider carefully if it is in your interests to lodge an appeal.

What will the Appeal Panel consider at the appeal hearing?

By law, when considering an Infant Class Size Appeal the Appeal Panel must consider the following matters:

- Whether the admission of an additional child/additional children would breach the infant class size limit;
- Whether the admission arrangements (including the area's co-ordinated admission arrangements) complied with the mandatory requirements of the School Admission Code and Part 3 of the School Standards and Framework Act 1998;
- Whether the admission arrangements were correctly and impartially applied in the case(s) in question; and
- Whether the decision to refuse admission was one which a reasonable admission authority would have made in the circumstances of the case.

This means that the Appeal Panel will look carefully to see if the admission of another child would break the law. It will also look at whether the admission arrangements for the school in question are legal and were applied correctly and whether in the circumstances it was reasonable not to offer your child a place at the school.

In some cases the Appeal Panel may also consider whether the admission of an additional child would cause a breach of the infant class size limit in the future. This is sometimes the case if a school has mixed year group classes, for example vertical grouping.

If the Appeal Panel identifies any unlawful admission criteria during the course of an appeal hearing it must refer these immediately to the Local Authority and the Admission Authority (if relevant).

In what circumstances can an Appeal Panel allow an Infant Class Size Appeal?

An Appeal Panel may only uphold an appeal where:

- It finds that the admission of additional children would not breach the infant class size limit; or
- It finds that the admission arrangements did not comply with admissions law or had not been correctly and impartially applied and the child would have been offered a place if the arrangements had complied or had been correctly and impartially applied: or
- It decides that the decision to refuse admission was not one which a reasonable authority would have made in the circumstances of the case.

Due to these limitations, an Appeal Panel cannot take into account your personal reasons for wanting a place at the school for your child, so you will need to consider whether your reasons for lodging an appeal fits these grounds.

On rare occasions an Appeal Panel may find that there has been a mistake in how the school’s admission arrangements were implemented. However, it is not enough that an error was made, the Appeal Panel can only uphold an appeal in this situation if it finds that the child should have been granted a place at the school if the admission arrangements had been correctly applied.

Many parents feel strongly that the decision to refuse their child a place at the school in question was not reasonable. To allow an appeal on these grounds the Appeal Panel must be satisfied that the decision to refuse to admit your child was ‘perverse in the light of the admission arrangements’ for example:

- it was beyond the range of responses open to a reasonable decision maker; or
- a decision which is so outrageous in its defiance of logic or accepted moral standards that no sensible person who had applied his mind to the question could have arrived at it.

It would be unusual for this to be the case if the admission arrangements were lawful and had been correctly and impartially applied. It is also likely that an Appeal Panel would consider it entirely reasonable for a child to be refused a place at their nearest school, if other children had higher priority for the places available, even if this results in you being offered a school place some distance from your home.
Please ensure you have read these Guidance Notes before completing your appeal form. This form is only applicable for all Surrey community and voluntary controlled schools and only those voluntary aided, trust or foundation school, free school or academy schools that have delegated responsibility for organising appeals to the Surrey Schools Appeals Service. If unsure please contact the Surrey Schools Appeals Service to ensure there is no delay in your appeal being heard and/or closing dates being missed.

If you wish to appeal for places for two or more children at the same school or you have decided to appeal for a place at more than one school, please complete separate appeal forms (you may make photocopies of the blank appeal form).

The numbered paragraphs below correspond with the questions numbered on the appeal form. If you wish to change any answers on your form please contact the Surrey Schools Appeals Service (020 8541 8092) as soon as possible, as this may affect the date and time of your appeal hearing.

Questions 1 - 8
Please give full details as requested. If unsure contact the Surrey Schools Appeal Service.

If your child is already of statutory school age, admission will usually be at the next appropriate point in the school term, subject to discussion.

If you wish your correspondence to be sent to another address, please include a note of this address. If you are moving to a new address please inform us of the details and date you will be resident at your new address.

Question 9 - 10
You are strongly recommended to attend the appeal hearing in person to present your case. You may be accompanied by a friend or be represented. Please give us their contact details and details of their relationship to your child. Copies of appeal papers will only be sent to any representative in exceptional circumstances. If you feel this applies to you please call the Surrey Schools Appeals Service once you receive your letter with details of your appeal hearing.

Question 11
If the 2nd parent wishes to attend the hearing or you agree that they can contribute and/or we can discuss your appeal with them please give details. However, it remains your responsibility to inform them of the hearing details and share papers and information.

Question 13 - 14
Please give details in the space provided if you have a disability, need assistance or any other accessibility difficulties or if you require an interpreter or signer. Please state which language you speak if you wish the Surrey Schools Appeals Service to arrange for an interpreter or signer to be present at your appeal hearing. Please note you may arrange for your own interpreter or signer if you prefer but please let us know as soon as possible. We cannot guarantee any special requests can be met but cannot consider them if we are not aware of them.
Question 15
If your child has a full current education, health and care plan please tick the box provided.

Section 16

Reasons for Appealing
This is your ‘written statement’ in which you should set out fully the reasons why you think your child should be admitted to the school you named in question 2. When writing your reasons for appealing it is important that you state everything you consider relevant to your child’s appeal. You may add extra sheets if there is not sufficient room on the appeal form to detail your reasons for appealing. Please ensure you write your reasons clearly or type them.

It is important to refer to the pages “How the Appeal Panel makes its decision – Infant Class Size Appeals” before you complete this section, as there are extremely limited circumstances in which an infant class size appeal can be upheld. Ideally you should answer one or both of these questions.

NB: An appeal has to be made in writing setting out the grounds on which it is made as stipulated in the School Admission Appeals Code 2012. Any appeal form received without any grounds of appeal will not be considered to have been lodged properly and will be returned to you.

Extra Evidence

Please enclose with your appeal form copies of any letters and/or documents that you wish to be taken into account at your appeal hearing. In order for an Appeal Panel to give appeals full consideration it is advisable for parents to submit all written evidence as soon as possible to enable it to be sent prior to the hearing. The Surrey Schools Appeals Service will not request further information on your behalf. You are responsible for submitting any evidence you wish the Appeal Panel to consider as part of your case.

Additional information and evidence supporting your appeal should be RECEIVED by the Surrey Schools Appeals Service as soon as possible but no later than 5.00pm on the day preceding 3 clear working days prior to the appeal hearing. Evidence RECEIVED after this deadline might not be considered by the Appeal Panel.

Allegations

If you make any allegations about another school, the Local Authority reserves the right to investigate such statements.

Complaints about an academy independent admission appeal panel
This factsheet sets out the types of complaints parents / legal guardians can raise with the Education and Skills Funding Agency (ESFA) about academy independent admission appeal panels (‘panels’). All references to ‘academies’ also cover: free schools, university technical colleges (UTCs) and studio schools. Complaints about panels for local authority maintained schools should be referred to the Local Government Ombudsman.

Complaints EFA can investigate
We can only investigate complaints about panels that did not follow the procedures set out in the School Admission Appeals Code 2012.

Examples include:
- the panel did not take relevant information into account in reaching its decision, or it took irrelevant information into account
- the admission appeal decision letter you received following the panel hearing did not give clear reasons for the decision
- you were not given an opportunity to state your case without unreasonable interruption
- the panel wasn’t set up or run in accordance with the Appeals Code

Where we find that something went wrong which could have affected the panel’s decision, we will recommend that the academy reviews its appeal procedures and ask the academy to hold a fresh appeal with a different panel.

Complaints beyond EFA’s scope
We can’t consider an appeal complaint if it was held more than 6 months ago, unless there is a good reason for the complaint being delayed.

We cannot overturn the panel’s decision. A panel is independent and decisions can only be challenged in court through a judicial review, for which independent legal advice should be sought.

Arranging panels is not within our remit - you should contact the academy directly to request an admission appeal.

Making a complaint
Details of how to make a complaint to EFA are available in the admission appeals guidance.
