

2. MY EARS AND HEARING

Ear wax is a common cause of hearing loss.

Reviewed September 2023. Free to use for personal use and with people you support. This checklist can be downloaded from www.surreypb.org.uk

Did you know that 1 in 3 adults with a learning disability has a significant hearing loss?

Ear wax can be easily treated at your doctor's surgery.

Eardrops, available from your pharmacy, can be used to soften and loosen the earwax which may help it to work its way out naturally.

THINGS TO CHECK

1

Do you have a hearing loss and need more support?

Your doctor's surgery can book you a hearing test.

Your doctor's surgery can give you advice about treating ear wax.

Your doctor's surgery can give you advice about hearing aids.

Hearing aids are not suitable for everyone. They may not be right for you if you have a profound hearing impairment.

Support with your communication.

Speech and Language Therapists can give you help with communication. Contact your local Community Learning Disability Team.

THINGS TO CHECK

2

Do you need more help with your hearing aid?

NHS hearing aids and new batteries are free. Contact your doctor's surgery.

You may need help to remember to wear your hearing aid, or to use it properly.

Your hearing aid may not work properly. It may need cleaning or mending.

The tube may need cleaning, mending or replacing. Your hearing aid may need a new battery. Your doctor's surgery will give you advice.

If your hearing aid is uncomfortable go to see your doctor and tell them.

A mould can be made to make sure your hearing aid fits in your ear properly.

3

Has anyone noticed signs of a hearing loss you don't know about?

People who know you well may notice things like:

- You sit very close to or have the TV or radio on loudly.
- You find it harder to understand people talking.
- You seem to ignore other people more often.
- You often ask people to repeat what they have said.
- You watch people's faces very closely.
- You seem to hear some people and not others.
- You seem to hear sometimes and not other times.
- You touch or slap your ears and the side of your face.
- You find it hard to tell where sounds are coming from.
- You are easily startled.
- You seem dizzy or lose your balance.

If you have any of these signs book a hearing test.

Some people might not be able to say that they have a problem with their hearing. Their behaviour may change.

- They may not want to go out as often as before.
- They may get more frightened, anxious and frustrated.
- They may seem sad and withdrawn.

4

Has anyone noticed any physical problems with your ears?

Is there any dry skin or soreness?
Is there any discharge from your ears?

Go to see your doctor if you have any problems with your ears or if you have an earache that doesn't get better in 24 hours.

See page 6 for useful websites about ears and hearing.

Action on Hearing Loss

Action on Hearing Loss is the new name for Royal National Institute for the Deaf (RNID).

www.actiononhearingloss.org.uk

The Royal Association for Deaf People (RAD)

RAD provide a support service for people with a learning disability in the South East who are Deaf or Hard of Hearing.

There is also useful information on their website.

www.royaldeaf.org.uk

Easy Health

Easyhealth is run by an organisation called Generate Opportunities Ltd.

There are Easy Read leaflets about hearing loss and hearing aids designed by many different organisations.

Look in the 'Health Leaflets' section.

www.easyhealth.org.uk

USING THIS CHECKLIST

This checklist is a part of The Health Action Planning toolkit available from www.surreypb.org.uk

The Health Action Planning toolkit is free to use.

- There are 20 other checklists in the series covering a wide range of health issues.
- There is a Health Action Plan template for your checklist answers.

The Health Action Planning Toolkit was developed by Mike Leat from The Clear Communication People Ltd in partnership with Surrey & Borders Partnership NHS Foundation Trust health professionals and other health professionals in Surrey.

Special thanks to members of the Health Action Planning Group for their support and advice: Phil Boulter, Matthew Box, Kathryn Fisher, Maria Gainsford, Gemma Hare, Patrick Howarth, Denise Souter and Susann Stone

The Health Action Planning Toolkit is intended as a aid to support people with learning disabilities to access the support and advice of qualified health professionals. The Clear Communication People Ltd take no responsibility for medical diagnosis, advice and treatment given in conjunction with the use of this checklist.

- Easy Pics imagenbank © The Clear Communication People Ltd
- Some photosymbols used - go to www.photosymbols.com

The Clear Communication People Ltd

The development of this toolkit was made possible by initial funding from The Learning Disability Partnership Board in Surrey, and further funding from The South East Health Quality Forum.

The Clear Communication People Ltd also helped fund the development.