							transformed but to make sure that it is accessible by all forms of transport, improvements for pedestrians and cyclists are needed. Subject to securing funding, further work would be done to design the scheme in detail and then work would be carried out in stages, depending on the eventual scale of the project. A Construction Management Plan will be in place to minimise any disruption to travel. The proposals are still in development and some aspects may change or be adapted to fit in with available space and budget.
